World Health Organization
Att: Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus
Avenue Appia 20
1211 Geneva
Switzerland

‘All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights’
(UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights)

Hereby the signed organizations declare that:

- We reject and do not consent to the international agreement on pandemic prevention, preparedness and response.
- We reject and we do not consent to the complementary amendments to the International Health Regulations (2005), implemented in May 2022, or any future amendments.
- We do not consent to the Swedish government, on our behalf, with WHO, negotiating regarding pandemic prevention, preparedness and response, IHR, masking, lockdowns, forced vaccination, et cetera.
- We reject and we do not consent to any forced intervention ever being applied on our members, either now or in the future, regarding infection control measures involving:
 - vaccinations
 - pharmaceutical drugs
 - deprivation of liberty
 - lockdowns (of corporations, schools, public transportation, et cetera)
 - denied entry to public spaces including cultural events, churches, shops, restaurants, et cetera

- travel restrictions
 - curfews
 - compulsory admittance in psychiatric wards for ‘public health’ non-compliance or beliefs
 - PCR or any other tests
 - vaccine certificates and digital IDs
 - masks
 - any forced intervention because of one’s opinion
 - any other forced intervention or restriction
 - censorship or control of ‘the official narrative’
 - surveillance
- We reject and do not consent to WHO’s recommendations and advice having any legally binding effect.
 - We do not consent to the vast budgetary increase that WHO wishes to impose on nations including Sweden.

Our declaration is based on:

- Universal Law
- Natural Law
- Common Law
- Maritime Law
- Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court
- The Geneva Conventions
- UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights
- UN International Convention on Civil and Political Rights
- UN International Convention on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights
- UN Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment
- UN Convention on the Rights of the Child
- UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities
- UN Principles of Medical Ethics relevant to the Role of Health Personnel, particularly Physicians, in the Protection of Prisoners and Detainees against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment
- UNESCO Universal Declaration on the Human Genome and Human Rights
- UNESCO Universal Declaration on Bioethics and Human Rights

- UNESCO International Declaration on Human Genetic Data
- Council of Europe Convention for the protection of Human Rights and Dignity of the Human Being with regard to the Application of Biology and Medicine: Convention on Human Rights and Biomedicine
- Council of Europe Additional Protocol to the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Dignity of the Human Being with regard to the Application of Biology and Medicine, on the Prohibition of Cloning Human Beings (ETS No. 168)
- Council of Europe Additional Protocol to the Convention on Human Rights and Biomedicine concerning Transplantation of Organs and Tissues of Human Origin (ETS No. 186)
- Council of Europe Additional Protocol to the Convention on Human Rights and Biomedicine, concerning Biomedical Research (CETS No. 195)
- Council of Europe Additional Protocol to the Convention on Human Rights and Biomedicine concerning Genetic Testing for Health Purposes (CETS No. 203)
- Council of Europe European Social Charter (Treaty No 163)
- World Medical Association – Declaration Of Helsinki – Ethical Principles for Medical Research Involving Human Subjects
- European Charter Of Patients’ Rights
- Contract laws
- Swedish Contract Law (Lag 1915:218)
- Swedish Foundational Law Regeringsformen (Lag 1974:152)

We are referring to the above conventions, charters, treaties and laws, regarding individual sovereignty, property rights, the right to work, the respect for each and everyone’s private life, freedom of speech, thought and expression, protection from forced medical intervention, medical experimentation, inhuman and/or degrading treatment, and protection from anything that can cause the individual harm and the fundamental right of informed consent.

We strongly emphasize that WHO has not signed any contract with either our organizations or its members, and therefore, under Swedish and international contract law, cannot dictate any requirements to us, and that WHO’s negotiations with Sweden and regarding mandated interventions do not apply to us.

We strongly emphasize that WHO’s declaration of any ‘Public Health Emergency of International Concern’ (pheic/pronounced ‘fake’) in no way erases or changes the rights conferred by the above conventions, charters, treaties and laws and can not be applied to us due to contract laws, since WHO has no contract with either us or our members.

The above declarations applies to the in this document signed Swedish organizations and its members.

Requirement

Finally, we demand an immediate and thorough investigation of Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus regarding his alleged leadership in the macabre and horrifying genocide in Ethiopia 2005-2016. The investigation must be carried out by an independent committee, as WHO is a UN organization and ICC is a UN court, and thus ICC cannot be expected to provide an impartial judgement in this matter.

In an indictment, filed to the International Criminal Court in the Hague (ICC), by the American economist David Steinman, who has been nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize, accused WHO Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus of being involved in directing Ethiopia's security forces, which killed, arbitrarily imprisoned and tortured around two million Ethiopians. From 2013 to 2015, Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus was one of three officials in control of the Ethiopian security services. Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus was Ethiopia's Health Minister from 2005 to 2012 and its Foreign Minister until 2016, when his party, Tigray People's Liberation Front, was the main member of the ruling coalition.

The organization Moresh Wegenie Amhara Organization has documented and summarized the unimaginably macabre and horrifying genocide.
